

GENDER-BASED HATE SPEECH

On the Internet some hateful people, usually men, truly believe that girls and women are not discriminated against or prone to abusive treatment from men.
In fact, girls and women "are":

Asking for it when choosing their wardrobe without considering men's instincts

Too emancipated and confident that they should be occasionally disciplined by men

So frustrated and unappealing that they turn into aggressive feminists

Unworthily promoted in politics and high offices just because it's cool

A peril for the future of species and traditions due to the proliferation of gender ideology

TAKE A SIDE

BE ON THE CIVIL SIDE OF INTERNET AND HISTORY

The real experts say that gender inequality and maltreatment are still present all over the world in various forms and manifestations. Usually, these experts are sociologists, anthropologists or economists. Most of the time, they are women and most of them have directly experienced discrimination. Sometimes, these experts are men.
